

26th Joint SIMP and AAIRI Multidisciplinary Research Conference with the theme “Research for Resilience, Innovation, and Sustainability.”

Hotel Grand Pacific, Singapore

Dr. Angelica Baylon was Honored to have been invited and recognized following the sharing of insights, reflections, and meaningful key takeaways from the remarkable gathering — the 26th Joint SIMP and AAIRI Multidisciplinary Research Conference, together with the Special Conferment Ceremony of the RI Singapore, held on May 29–31, 2026, with the theme “Research for Resilience, Innovation, and Sustainability.”

Dr. Baylon have been invited and recognized following the sharing of insights, reflections, and meaningful key takeaways from the remarkable gathering – the 26th Joint SIMP and AAIRI Multidisciplinary Research Conference (JMRC) and the Special Conferment Ceremony of RI Singapore, held from May 28 to June 1, 2026, in Singapore, with the theme “Research for Resilience, Innovation, and Sustainability.”

Gratitude is extended to SIMP, AAIRI, and RI Singapore for the generous sponsorships, recognitions, and opportunities accorded during the conference, particularly for the oral presentation of the research paper during the 26th JMRC. Deep appreciation is likewise expressed for the commendations and congratulations received from evaluators and participants.

29-31 May 2026

Special thanks are extended to SIMP-AAIRI President FDr. Dr. Glenn Cabacang, RI Singapore President FDr. Dr. Georgene Ang, Director IV of the ARAL Secretariat Office under the Office of the Undersecretary for Learning Systems of DEPED Hon. FDr. Dr. Margarita Consolacion Ballesteros, and FDr. Dr. Carl Balita for their excellent feedback and insightful remarks regarding the paper and presentation.

The recognition of the study as one of the selected papers for publication, together with the complementary professional memberships and benefits accorded to recognized scholars and contributors, is truly appreciated and cherished

29-31 May 2026

Dr. Baylon extends heartfelt gratitude to the Ascendens Asia International Research Institute (AAIRI) for the honor and distinction of being recognized as a Recognized Research Scholar, in acknowledgment of active contributions to research advancement and engagement in scholarly pursuits within the global research community.

The recognition was made even more meaningful through the generous sponsorship provided to invited research paper presenters and impression speakers.

