

ERASMUS PROJECT

University of Split

Lecture Session of Dr. Angelica Baylon

Dr. Baylon delivered a series of lecture revolving around the topic of new development in the maritime industry, human resources management in the maritime industry, and maritime education.

University of Split, Faculty of Maritime Studies

ERASMUS PROJECT

University of Split

Lecture Session of Engr. Bayotas

Engr. Bayotas delivered a series of lectures revolving around the topics of development in marine engineering, bunker and engineering computation as well as scrubber system and ballast water management system

University of Split, Faculty of Maritime Studies

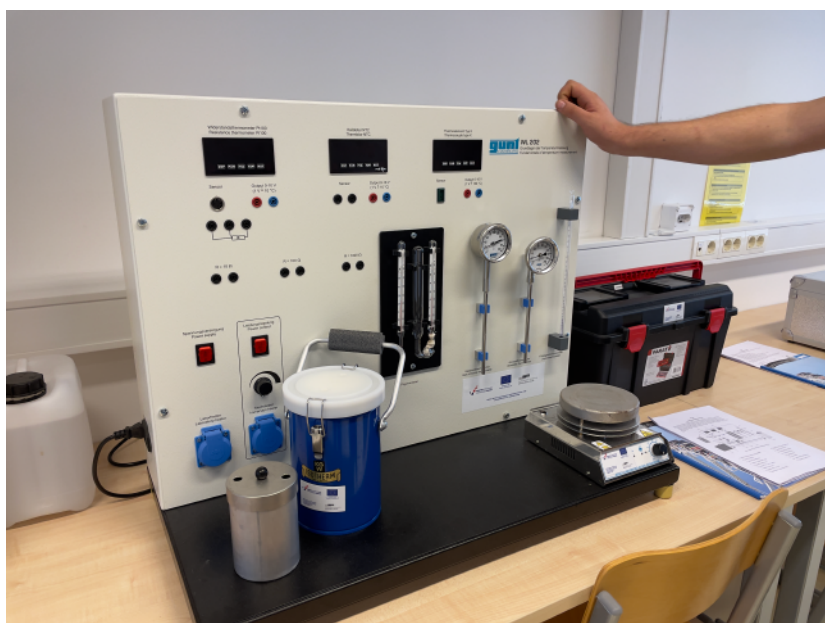

ERASMUS PROJECT University of Split

Collaboration Talks and Partnerships

Dr. Baylon and Engr. Bayotas talked with the different professors as well as the Vice Dean and Program Heads of the Faculty of Maritime Studies for research collaboration, information exchange, and future partnerships between the two institutions.

University of Split, Faculty of Maritime Studies

ERASMUS PROJECT University of Split

Observation and Immersion on their ETO Course

Dr. Baylon and Engr. Bayotas sat-in and immersed with the different courses being offered under their ETO Course which included electronics, electrical engineering, and mechatronics as parts of the goal of improving the BSMEET curriculum developed in the academy.

University of Split, Faculty of Maritime Studies